ABOUT ME

I am a 20-something Australian Freelance Travel Writer & Photographer focused on promoting solo & budget travel for backpackers around the world. Providing destination guides, movie sites, photo spots and my overall recommendations! I write about the things that appeal to me - the average Millennial traveller; everything from hiking to find amazing views, discovering fascinating culture to immerse yourself in and where to find the best places for brekky, or where to party, sip a cocktail and watch the sunset...
